Taft Says CIO-PAC's Political Aspirations Threaten American Principles of Liberty

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—Robert A. Taft has been campaigning in Ohio off and on for 30 years—as state representative, state senator and U. S. senator.

But never before in his experience, he said today, has he seen a campaign like the present one in which he is seeking reelection to the U. S. senate.

Here's the way he summed it up:

"The Democratic party is almost completely inactive. Governor Lausche is conducting an individual campaign.

"The campaign against the Republican congressmen and myself is being waged by the Political Action Committee of the CIO out of its Washington office.

"Ohio is being flooded with literature and propaganda prepared months ahead in Washington, attempting to persuade the people of Ohio that they must eliminate some congressmen who have served their interest for years and replace them with stooges who will take orders of the labor union bosses."

And here was Mr. Taft's comment on the campaign:

"Of course, if this kind of campaign succeeds, we no longer will have a representative government in the United States. Each congressman will represent the strongest pressure group in his district, and no one will represent the people of the United States."

Throughout his service in congress, Senator Taft said, he has "worked for the interests of the industrial worker, the white collar worker, the farmer, the businessman and others whose prosperity is essential for the general welfare of this state."

He admitted he often has antagonized special groups because they sometimes have asked for special consideration contrary to the general welfare of the rest of the people.

"But," he declared, "I never before have seen such a bareface attempt to dominate congress as is shown now by the labor campaign."

He charged the CIO-Political Action Committee with using "strictly the communist technique" in the campaign.

"It is based," he said, "on the distribution of irresponsible pamphlets."

Truman Offers Asia Peace

Russia Trying To Enslave, He Warns

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18—(AP)—President Truman set the world stage today for an unprecedented counter-offensive to Soviet peace propaganda. He offered a full "partnership of peace" to all Asia, backed up by United States military might.

The State Department's "Voice of America" bombarded every reachable listener with a constant repetition of Truman's warning to the peoples of the Far East that Russia is trying to turn them into "colonial slaves of a new imperialism."

Will Not Stop

And the President left for the Russian politburo a bold and blunt reminder that the United States will not stop short of war to resist aggression and preserve "our free way of life."

Mr. Truman flew back to Washington shortly after delivering his major foreign policy speech last night in the War Memorial opera house where the United Nations charter was born five years ago.

He left San Francisco's international airport at 1:15 a. m. EST., on the last eight-hour leg of a 14,400-mile round trip flight during which he talked with General MacArthur on Wake Island about what, he said, were the "dangers which still face us."

Want Partnership

"What we want is a partnership for peace with all the world," Mr. Truman told a cheering audience. He said, "We want peace but it must be a peace founded upon justice. That American policy is as old as our republic and it is stronger today than ever before in our history, and with God's help we intend to keep it that way."

The crowd applauded vigorously as the President declared, "We are increasing our armed strength because Soviet policies leave us no other choice."

If the Soviets "really want peace," Mr. Truman continued, they can prove it "by living up to the principles of the United Nations charter," and "by joining the rest of the United Nations in calling upon the North Koreans to lay down their arms at once," and "by lifting the Iron Curtain and permitting the free exchange of information and ideas," and, finally, by joining with the UN to establish a system of collective security "which will permit the elimination of the atomic bomb and the drastic reduction and regulation of all other arms and armed forces."

Blind Man's Dog Found By Dog Warden, Police

LISBON, Oct. 18—A seeing eye dog, owned by Gleason Wildman of 794 Arch st., Salem, was located here today by the dog warden and city police.

The dog had jumped out of a car and disappeared early Tuesday morning when the driver of the auto stopped to fix a flat tire. It was revealed that the dog has been afraid of noises since an accident in the past and that perhaps the noise from the tire blowout might have scared it, inducing it to run from the car.

13 More County Men Inducted In Draft

Thirteen Columbiana county men were inducted today and sent to Canton, bringing the total induction in the county to 62 since Sept. 1, local draft board No. 16 announced today.

The board revealed that it would continue its policy of not giving the addresses of inductees, in compliance with an order recently received from state headquarters, but afterwards cancelled upon receipt of a Washington bulletin by Col. C. W. Goble, state draft chief.

The bulletin stated that there would be "no restriction upon release or publication of lists of registrants nor upon the time such lists may be made for publication."

The purpose of the restriction order had never been revealed by draft officials.

Those inducted today include Martin Roth, Jr., Ray W. Kannal, Edward G. Galbreath, Thomas J. McNicol, Allen J. Adkins, James E. Payne, Robert McLane, Jr., Joseph Wolfe, Jr., Amica G. Colian, Jack A. Miller, Fred J. Bell, William J. Rusinke and Ernest E. Salsberry.

In addition to the 13 men inducted today, 28 were taken Oct. 6 and another 24 are scheduled to report for induction Oct. 26. The quota in Ohio for October is set at 2,860. Columbiana county has been asked to furnish 73 men in November.

Sheriff Probes Pranks

The Columbiana county sheriff's office is investigating Halloween pranks which are reported causing damage to homes throughout the county. Windows in the home of Harvey Farrell of Fairfield township were broken when pranksters threw apples through them, and several other incidents have been reported at Rogers.

$7,248 Reported In Chest Drive

Canvassers Renew Solicitations Today

A total of $7,248.20 has been collected toward the 1950 goal of $41,080 of the Community Chest fund drive, following the first full day of campaigning yesterday by volunteer workers.

Of this amount, over $4,000 was received prior to the campaign in the form of advance gifts, and so far industrial employment netted $700.

Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, campaign secretary, said today that some of the teams have almost completed their solicitations of their respective territories and are expected to turn in their full reports soon.

No report has been received yet of any 100 percent subscriptions by employees of business houses or departments of industrial firms.

Wellsville Fears Physician Shortage

WELLSVILLE, Oct. 18—Fearing this city may be left with only one physician, city council has ordered a resolution asking the deferment of Dr. William A. McGarey, 31.

Councilmen said if Dr. McGarey is drafted, his wife, Dr. Gladys McGarey, 30, might leave the city and only Dr. D. H. Beaumont would remain to treat the ills of this community of 7,850.

The Kiwanis Club and American Legion Post 70 also have asked his deferment and petitions are being circulated among the public. Columbiana County Draft Board 16 will be asked to classify Dr. McGarey as essential at home. He is a member of the school board.

A native of Wellsville, he received over two years medical training under the Navy program and had no active duty. He was graduated from the University of Cincinnati. His wife was born in India, daughter of American missionary parents. They started joint practice two and a half years ago.

Ohio Edison Co. Seeks Council's Approval Of Residential Rate Hike

A proposed increase in residential electricity rates in Salem by the Ohio Edison Co. was presented to members of city council Tuesday night and referred to council's lighting committee for further study.

The utilities company requested a raise in rates of 29 cents on a bill, based upon 100 kilowatt hours. It would represent an overall average increase of 8.64 percent.

It was pointed out by Ohio Edison that the last time a change in rates occurred was in 1939, when there was a decrease of 55 cents per 100 kilowatt hours.

The increase is being asked in all incorporated communities of 1,000 or more population in the Youngstown division of the Ohio Edison Co. Similar increases are also being proposed throughout the state. Commercial rates would remain unchanged under the new schedule.

Comparison Shown By comparison, a family using 100 kilowatt hours now pays a bill of $3.78. Under the proposed rate, the family using the same amount of electricity would pay $4.07, an increase of 29 cents or 7.6 percent. At 200 kilowatt hours, the change would be from $5.78 to $6.20, an increase of 42 cents or 7.2 percent.

The new rates based upon kilowatt hours consumed and applicable to most residential consumers are:

5.0 cents per k.w.h. for the first 20 k.w.h. per month.
4.25 cents per k.w.h. for the next 35 k.w.h. per month.
3.50 cents per k.w.h. for the next 45 k.w.h. per month.
2.25 cents per k.w.h. for the next 50 k.w.h. per month.
2.00 cents per k.w.h. for all over 150 k.w.h. per month.

As a further comparison, monthly bills for the present and proposed rates based upon the kilowatt hour consumption during that length of time follows:

Monthly Use	Present Rate	Proposed Rate	Increase
50 k.w.h.	$2.28	$2.28	—
60 k.w.h.	2.58	2.67	.09
70 k.w.h.	2.88	3.02	.14
80 k.w.h.	3.18	3.37	.19
90 k.w.h.	3.48	3.72	.24
100 k.w.h.	3.78	4.07	.29
120 k.w.h.	4.18	4.52	.34
140 k.w.h.	4.58	4.97	.39
160 k.w.h.	4.98	5.40	.42
180 k.w.h.	5.38	5.80	.42

ESA Studies Wage, Price Problems

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—A powerful new policy agency over prices and wages today tackled a series of problems affecting Americans' pocketbooks and pantry shelves.

The Economic Stabilization Agency (ESA) came officially into existence yesterday when Alan Valentine took the oath as administrator. A few hours later, another mobilization agency said it will act shortly to curtail use of rubber.

Valentine's problems were: 1. Assembling a staff. So far, the ESA consists of Valentine, Cyrus S. Ching, chairman of the New Wage Stabilization Board (WSB), and a handful of office helpers.

2. Seeking to preserve stabilization by voluntary means. Valentine said the country is in a "very, very grave crisis" and is "dangerously near the point at which the stabilization of the economy is threatened by inflation."

3. Advising President Truman on whether, and when, ceilings should be clamped on any prices and wages.

4. Administering price and wage controls where necessary.

5. Calling labor-management conferences, whenever Valentine thinks it desirable.

Salem Enjoys Hot Autumn Weather

Ohioans are finding the weather this week very easy to take as record-breaking high temperatures are being reported throughout the state.

Here in Salem, the mercury rose only to a modest 71 yesterday but climbed to a high 77 at noon today. In Cleveland a record 82 degrees was recorded yesterday for the highest ever recorded so late in autumn in the lake area.

Council Drops Red Light Turn Traffic Policy

Finds Hazardous Situations Arise From New Experiment

City Council Tuesday night abolished one more phase of its experimental traffic program, an action which undoubtedly will cause the average pedestrian to heave a big sigh of relief.

After discussing the faults of the plan permitting motorists to make right turns off State st. on red lights at the Ellsworth and Lincoln ave. intersections, the legislators approved Councilman Harold J. Asty's motion to drop the idea altogether.

Council president Curtis H. Vaughan reported that he noticed three "very hazardous situations" caused by the turn-right-on-red ruling during a half hour observation period recently. He requested council to take some action on the matter. It was pointed out that the signs at the intersections were not observed or headed by more than 50 percent of the motorists.

Not Wide Enough Michael Schuller, chairman of the safety committee, declared that the streets are not wide enough to try a previous proposal of installing arrow type traffic lights at the intersections.

In another traffic action, council authorized the mayor's request that the administration be given necessary authority to try out the drive-in system of parking on the south side of E. State st. between Broadway and the Lyle Printing Co. Street markings will be painted to allow 18.6 feet per car plus a 13-foot restricted area between each two cars.

Council authorized the purchase of new scales for weighing parties requested by Mayor Harry M. Vincent, and instructed City Solicitor Walter J. Hunston to draw up the necessary legislation for the appropriation of funds for their purchase and installation.

The scales would cost $1,630 plus a possible 10 percent for installation prices which would include the building of a new foundation. They would be axle load type, capable of weighing loads up to 60,000 axle capacity. It was decided to purchase the old scales would cost $350 to put into service and are not the suitable type for quick weighing in purposes.

Study Salary Request Councilman Fred Koenreich reported that the finance committee expects to have word this week from the auditor about the availability of funds for the raise in salaries of city workers. Firemen, police and maintenance employees recently requested a 10 percent increase.

Council also heard a report that the Lincoln Machine Co. has agreed to dedicate a 60-foot right-of-way on E. Third st. between Jennings and Howard avenues.

B. V. BeVier, superintendent of the water department, informed council that unlimited quantities of top soil are available at no cost at the new reservoir site. Mr. BeVier said that although the water supply is no longer acute, a shortage still exists, with the reservoir supply standing at five feet.

MOTORIST FINED

Albert B. Hiner of R. D. 5, Salem, was fined $20 and costs in Mayor Harry Vincent's court Tuesday on a reckless driving charge. He was arrested by police following a truck-auto collision on N. Lincoln ave at 7 p. m. Monday.

South Korean Troops Reported In Enemy's Capital Of Pyongyang

TOKYO, Oct. 18—(AP)—South Koreans said tonight their troops had fought into Pyongyang, doomed and nearly deserted Red capital, but there were indications the report may be premature.

Two hours after the radio at Pusan said South Korean troops had entered, a field dispatch reported marine pilots still were attacking enemy targets in close support outside the city.

The dispatch, filed by AP Correspondent O. H. P. King after a flight over the capital, made no mention of friendly forces inside the city.

Instead it said that North Korean rearguards were withdrawing into the bomb-blackened city before the United Nations advance.

It still was believed possible that a small advance South Korean force had crossed the Taedong river into the Red capital, as the Pusan radio said. If so it climaxed a brilliant eight-day march of nearly 90 miles.

The Pusan radio said the South Koreans also captured Pyongyang's nearby airfield.

In any case, Pyongyang was in its last hours.

AP Correspondent Hal Boyle in another flight over Pyongyang said remnants of enemy forces fleeing north from the city were attacked by jet planes. He said the city appeared deserted. His dispatch was filed shortly before Pusan announcement.

The ROKs fought hard to enter the city ahead of the U. S. First Cavalry division.

The American foot, troopers wanted to add Pyongyang to their string of historic firsts—Manila, Tokyo, the linkup between the two South Korea beachheads.

But the South Koreans, battling to win back the northern half of their country—wrested from them with the Russian occupation after World War II—were not to be stopped.

Along the winding mountain road southeast of Pyongyang and into the capital plains, the ROK troops rolled forward, hardly pausing.

For days their officers had trouble restraining the South Koreans from running on toward the city.

They surged through Red Korean opposition, sporadic at times, bitter at others.

The mountain road was littered with communist dead. The South Koreans wheeled past huge piles of abandoned Red arms and equipment.

They paused only to seize what they needed for their onward thrust.

American tanks cleared a path at least part of the way for the surging ROKs.

The thrust climaxed a spectacular northward drive out of the old Pusan beachhead, about 270 miles to the southeast.

The ROK First Division made a reputation for toughness north and northeast of the old Taegu anchor of the Southeast Korea beachhead.

When other ROK divisions recoiled there before the fury of communist attacks, the South Korean first division held. It would not retreat.

The battle for Pyongyang, which may end the war, began earlier today when Allied columns surged against a Red Korean defense line south and east of the city.

Pyongyang is the first capital of a Russian satellite to be entered in war by forces of the democratic nations.

On the east coast, two other important cities fell. Hamhung and Hungnam—110 miles south of the Manchurian border—were captured by ROK troops.

The fight to Pyongyang was a hotly-contested race between Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay's U. S. First Cavalry and Gen. Paik Sun Yung's ROK First Division.

Communist forces made a stand before their capital.

Allied air reconnaissance said no fixed installations had been observed.

But Eighth army headquarters reported the Reds had massed (Turn to ALLIED, Page 14)

N. Y. Election Squabble Aired

Dewey Denies Charge He 'Bought' Opponent

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(AP)—Democratic accusations of Republican corruption and sweeping denials by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey rocked New York today with campaign explosions that echoed on the national political front.

Dewey, twice the Republican candidate for president, stood on an unqualified denial at Democratic assertions that cash or promises of appointment were used, to purchase Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley's withdrawal from the gubernatorial race and pave the way for his own renomination.

Hanley, now Republican candidate for senator, took to the air last night to back Dewey to the hilt and deny any improper significance to a letter Hanley wrote last Sept. 5 after a conference with Dewey.

In the letter he said he had received "unalterable propositions" and could clean up his debts in 90 days if he dropped out of the governor's race and ran for the senate instead.

Last night, in an emotional 15-minute talk, the 74-year-old Hanley called Democratic charges "a new low in political smears."

"Nobody has given me a nickel, since the nomination or before," he said. He insisted he bowed out of the race solely because he thought Dewey was the better man in the present emergency.

Hanley said Dewey never discussed finances with him, and as for the letter, "if there was anything crooked in it, or anything crooked intended by it, or anything crooked suggested by it—I wouldn't have written it. I have more sense than that."

But in another radio talk, Dewey's Democratic-Liberal rival for the governorship, Congressman Walter A. Lynch, hurled threats of a grand jury investigation and impeachment at the two men.

Announcing this yesterday, the Navy placed the toll at one dead, 12 missing and 79 injured. That brought total announced casualties due to mine explosions to 12 dead, 36 missing and 96 injured.

The Navy said the Pirate and the Pledge were sunk Oct. 12 off Wonsan, North Korean port recently captured by South Korean forces. The Navy previously had announced that the destroyers Brush and Mansfield were damaged by mines in late September and the minesweeper Maggie sunk Oct. 1.

The Pirate had 39 injured and six missing; the Pledge suffered one dead, six missing and 40 injured.

Salem City Hospital Ready To Handle Emergency Cases

AUTOMOBILE accidents are a common occurrence on Salem's busy highways, and consequently are taken more or less for granted, even though many of them result in injuries. Very few people understand all the community resources that must be geared in expectation of such events.

Ambulance service, state and city police and emergency wrecking service must always be available immediately. But in addition, a hospital such as Salem City Hospital must always be ready with sufficient medical and nursing personnel to administer to the needs that follow such accidents. Sometimes a mishap may require emergency treatment and hospitalization of eight or ten persons. As many as 20 persons were so treated during a recent weekend at the Salem City hospital.

3 Pennsylvania Reds Indicted For Sedition

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18—(AP)—The Allegheny county grand jury today indicted three western Pennsylvania Communist party leaders on charges of sedition.

Held for court are Chairman Steven Nelson of the Communist party of Western Pennsylvania, Andrew Onda, Communist party organizer among steel workers, and James Dolsen, correspondent for the Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker.

All three now are free on bonds of $10,000 each. They were indicted on six counts of violating the state's 1939 anti-sedition law. That law forbids advocating overthrow of the United States government by force.

Judge Michael A. Musmanno, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania and a Pittsburgh jurist, was the principal witness against the three men in grand jury deliberations preceding the indictments.

Hanover Constable Warns Area Motorists

HANOVER, Oct. 18—The Hanover township constable today reminded motorists that failure to stop behind a school bus when it halts to unload children is in violation of a recent state law and that it constitutes a menace to children.

This statement came after several violations of the law had been noticed in this area. George Brantingham of Winona was fined $5 and costs today for passing a school bus loaded with children while it was halted Monday evening.

The constable also reported that Mrs. May G. Mertz of near Columbiana and Mrs. Low Mackebbin of Holmes, N.Y., were fined $10 and costs each today after having been arrested on Route 30.

French Leave Frontier Post

Are Pushed Back In IndoChina Red Surge

SAIGON, INDOCHINA, Oct. 18—(AP)—France today announced abandonment of the IndoChina frontier post of Dong Dang, relinquishing for the second time in 65 years her control of the main invasion route from China.

A French military spokesman said the Dong Dang garrison withdrew yesterday, presumably 15 miles southeast to the French frontier headquarters fortress of Langson.

It was the fifth post the French have given up within a month along the mountainous frontier, stronghold of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's Nationalist guerrillas.

Dong Dang squarely faced the traditional invasion route from China—through the walled Chinese city of Nam Quan (Chinese gate) and a mountain pass. Except for periods of Japanese and Chinese occupation during and just after World War II, France had held the post since 1885.

The withdrawal from Dong Dang left major French frontier garrisons only at Langson, and on the western and eastern ends of the former French border defense line—at Laokay and Mon-cay.

MOSCOW, Oct. 18—(AP)—Red Star, newspaper of the Soviet army, said today the Americans will be powerless to affect the outcome of the war in IndoChina.

It declared the French there are now in a desperate situation and pinning their hope solely to American aid.

3-Americans Killed In British Air Crash

LONDON, Oct. 18—(AP)—Three Americans instead of two were among the 28 persons killed in last night's crash of a British European Airways plane, the airline announced today.

Earlier it had reported only two American casualties. The third was identified as Max Jacobson of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Only one person—the steward on the twin-engine Dakota—survived the crash into the backyard of a north London home.

The other American victims were listed as U.S. air force Lt. Thomas Karr and his wife. Their home address still was being withheld. Karr was stationed in the Azores. The couple was enroute to Glasgow, Scotland, to visit a friend.

Dems Charge Payoff In N. Y. Politics

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17—(AP)—Democrats Tuesday cited a letter by New York's Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley to support their charge that he had been paid off to step aside as a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, in favor of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and become instead the party's candidate for U. S. senator.

The letter, which the 74-year-old Hanley himself released here late yesterday, said that "if I will consent to take the nomination to the United States senate, I am definitely assured of being able to clean up my financial obligations within 90 days."

At Rochester, Frank Gannett, publisher of a group of newspapers and long a prominent Republican called for a grand jury investigation.

Gannett, who said he lent Hanley about $19,000 to help finance his pre-convention campaign, said "the letter reveals corruption in political affairs, and the penalties for these are severe."

Hanley denied to newsmen that there was anything illegal or morally wrong with any financial arrangements he had made.

Eisenhower Means It

TO POLITICIANS and to people who think like politicians, Dwight D. Eisenhower's firm refusal to play the political game is a stunner. They can't believe he means it.

Their dilemma is deepened by the fact that it is this very withdrawal from politics which has made Gen. Eisenhower attractive as a potential political candidate. Both parties would like to find a candidate with no political opponents. Both parties tried to get Gen. Eisenhower committed in their favor before the presidential election in 1948.

Finally, in January of that year, Gen. Eisenhower made an unequivocal statement. He said he was not available and would not accept nomination for "high political office." He asserted that his decision was "definite and positive." He stated that he did not believe lifelong soldiers ever should seek high political office. The statement stuck. What was more to the point, in terms of politics, it stranded various political figures who had perched themselves on an Eisenhower bandwagon that never materialized. But the same thing was bound to happen again. Last week Governor Dewey revived the Eisenhower talk.

The general now has issued another statement. He will not be a candidate, he says, for the presidency in 1952. He declares that his future lies in his presidency of Columbia university.

This statement, too, is unequivocal. But it will not be the end of the matter. As before, there will be Americans who will continue to be more interested in what an Eisenhower bandwagon would do to their parade than in the general's insistence that he is not in the bandwagon business and does not intend to get into it.

Victory For Ideas

EACH DAY'S news shows the military phase of the Korean war moving toward victorious completion. The fall of Pyongyang, capital of North Korea, probably will mark the collapse of the last organized resistance to the United Nations forces.

But that will not be victory.

It has taken two great wars and their aftermath to prove that there is no victory worth having which does not include victory for ideas. Korea will be no nearer to independence and security from invasion when the Korean war of 1950 is over than it was when the war began.

Certainly it will be no nearer than it was in 1945 when the United States and the Soviet Union split responsibility for its affairs between them, then muffed their responsibility so badly that the Koreans drifted into civil war.

It is easy to blame Russian Communism for everything that happened because invasion of South Korea was inspired by the Kremlin. But the United States was at fault, too.

It was not prepared to help South Korea set up a stable government which would command confidence. It did not give the South Koreans enough military security to offset Russia's aid to the North Koreans. It failed the Republic of Korea as a civil and military counselor.

Dictatorship vs. Custom

CUSTOM, as the French essayist Montaigne once pointed out, is more powerful than logic in the affairs of men.

That is why a dictatorship goes through the tomfoolery of "elections" with no choice offered. It is why dictators plaster pictures of themselves on every blank wall. It is why they force their subjects to yell "heil Hitler" and never to forget for an instant whose thumb they are living under. The purpose is to establish a custom of acceptance of the powers that be.

East Germany's Communist bosses have been confirmed by more than 12,000,000 votes. The ballots they prepared contained the names of Communists only, no one else. Yet some 51,000 persons in East Germany either voted against the dictatorship—according to its own admission—or invalidated their one-party ballots by some irregularity in marking them.

Custom may clinch the Communists' hold on East Germany; it has made a good start. But there is another custom among men. It is the custom of dissent. Nothing is more illogical than dissent in a dictatorship. Yet, until every dissenter can be slaughtered or sent into exile, no dictatorship can be secure. One human being with a free soul is a greater threat to dictators and would-be dictators than an army of slaves.

The change in the income tax puts even more meaning into the expression "you can't take it with you."

Washington Parties

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

Army Secretary Pace Defies Protocol

WASHINGTON
THE fighting in Korea and the big mobilization have created a crisis in Washington protocol.

It has been the established procedure that no guests leave a party until after the guest of honor departs. But, in recent years, guests of honor have gotten lax in fulfilling this obligation to saw off a shindig at a respectable hour. As a result, the average party break-up time has drifted past midnight and, in some cases, into the wee hours.

It has been a trend that Washington hostesses have tried to fight, but unsuccessfully. It's been a dilemma. The party-throwing art has gotten so refined here each guest of honor is almost guaranteed a hilarious time. And he just doesn't want to go home. If you try to dilute his hilarity, there goes your hostess ranking.

Well, all this got to be too much for Secretary of the Army Frank Pace and his wife. He figures that the exigencies of war (even though it's only a police action) and mobilization placed too great a demand on his time to waste hours while protocol ran its dull course. So he recently fixed sack-time at exactly midnight, which meant a tactical retreat from any affair at exactly 11 o'clock, regardless of the staying-power of the honored guest.

First Reaction among hostesses when they learned of the Paces' decision was a lot of raised eyebrows. According to some standards, Frank is a mere strapping in the Capital's social corps and who is he to change established protocol? But he has been feeling a lot better in the mornings.

Next Pentagon official to follow Pace's early-to-leave, early-to-bed policy for the emergency was Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews. And now the dam has been broken. Apparently every defense official and officer now feels that he has sufficient precedence and excuse for bailing out of a brawl whenever he chooses.

Secretary Matthews has gone Pace one better, however, with a fixed 10:30 p. m. departure time. It's a fact that he probably gets to his desk in the Pentagon earlier than any of the other officials there. He's usually at work by 7:30.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff members and Air Secretary Tom Finletter are all going along with the new curfew, but with a few reservations. Army Chief of Staff

Joe Collins doesn't go out much, and when he does, he usually says goodnight by 11. But he admits that once in a while some party can hold him after the deadline. This happens when he gets in a bull-session with other Pentagon brass at some affair.

Tom Finletter probably goes out less than any of the rest of them. But at "must" functions he's willing to hang around for the required length of time. His top general, Hoyt Vandenberg, shoulders the big burden of social contacts for the Air Force. If it's a real wing-ding there's no automatic checking out for him. But you could never tell it next morning in the office. A lot of golf on weekends keeps him in shape. And he's not ashamed to sneak out a side door of some affair even before 10:30 if he finds himself yawning.

ADMIRAL SHERMAN, Chief of Naval Operations, makes a practice of being back at his home port before midnight on week nights. On weekends he's willing to let that rule slip a little. And the new Secretary of Defense, George Marshall, has practically no problem about staying out late at all. He goes straight to bed after dinner and a little reading. It has got to be something very big and important to get him at the festive board.

The key military man at the White House, however, currently has the most unusual problem with regard to staying at functions too long. The President's military aide, Maj.-Gen. Harry Vaughn, has just been dropped from "The Social List of Washington," an unofficial guide as to who is social in the town and who isn't. No reason is given why he will not be included in the new book. Vaughn himself says he doesn't care one way or another.

He probably feels that it won't have any bearing on whether or not he is asked to parties. It has been his habit to stay long at good parties and go home early from dull ones.

As far as hostesses go on the new party curfew for the military, there is divided opinion. Mrs. Morris Caffitz, currently rated as the No. 1 hostess, says:

"I'm always lucky that my guest of honor never seems to stay too late. And I don't think the military should get too excited about this because there are always crises in the city. But I do think Frank Pace is the nicest person."

Good Scouts

By TRUMAN TWILL

IN THE woods in front of our house last Saturday morning was probably the wettest bunch of Boy Scouts who ever camped out overnight in an October rainstorm.

They had moved in and put up their tents late the night before, doing a workmanlike job. Fortunately, the rain hadn't started yet. But by daylight their camp was a soggy mess.

This is one of the built-in hazards of camping out. Sometimes it rains. Sometimes the weather is favorable, as it was a few weeks ago when the younger Twill spent his first night camping out as a Boy Scout.

Mothers and fathers always bite their fingers with anxiety and wonder if their kids are going to be all right. They wonder if they will get enough to eat—and they wonder with good reason because most kids are helpless in the kitchen.

But it is not on record that a Boy Scout ever weakened from lack of food under these circumstances. Nor did the Boy Scouts ever lose a member from finding out what it's like to stay alive without an inner-spring mattress, central heating, a cook stove, electric lights, running water and a roof over his head.

There is a little something extra that might be said at this instant in history about the importance of keeping American boys from growing too dependent on the comforts of home. Millions of them are going to have to rough it under far worse conditions than ever existed during a Boy Scout camping trip.

They can take it from those who had to camp out in jungles, deserts, mountains, plains, bombed-out towns and desolate swamps during World War II that everything they can learn about self-survival close to nature is a gilt-edge investment in their own security for the future.

In World War II thousands of boys were thrown on their own in places like Guadalcanal, the Aleutians, Iceland, Libya and military training camps in the United States, which were no bargains either. For those who never had learned how to scrounge for themselves it was a needlessly hard experience. The shock was more than some could bear.

Maybe the weak will inherit the earth, but right now would you want it?

In a couple of months the kids will switch from roller skates to ice skates—and lose their bearings.

No one thinks of the Boy Scouts as having anything to do with military training, and no one should. But the Boy Scout movement is ideally organized to teach its members some of the basic realities of the kind of existence they may have to deal with in the kind of world they are living in. Herewith, a deep bow to the Scout Masters.

Maybe it was raining last Saturday morning in Korea, too, which is a long way from home—and from inner-spring mattresses, home-cooking, central heating and mom downstairs in the kitchen getting breakfast. Come to think of it, it might help some of us old beat-up Scouts to bear the discomfort of higher taxes if we'd go camping with a Boy Scout troop some night, preferably a rainy one.

After this was written, we learned that those other Boy Scouts we had seen in the camp were the fathers of the little Scouts. They were sharing their sons' experience. Herewith, a deep bow to them, too.

A Lot of Predictions Have Gone Wrong This Season

Peace Gestures Of the Soviet

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON
FROM time to time the Moscow government indicates a desire to carry on "peace" conversations with the American government. Sometimes the hint is thrown out in the United Nations, and sometimes it is conveyed in private to persons prominent in this country.

The puzzle is that, with an American ambassador in Moscow all the time and with a Russian ambassador in Washington, there should be any question about means of transmitting the desires of the Kremlin.

Some of the approaches are informal and may be no more than gestures to indicate a peaceful turn in Moscow policy. One of these which occurred a few weeks ago on the night of the dinner given by Trygve Lie in New York concerned Bernard M. Baruch, elder statesman, who, as reported at that time, was seen conversing at the head table with Jakob Malik, the Russian envoy.

Mr. Baruch declined to reveal what was said either by Mr. Malik or himself. Since then another prominent American — Harold Stassen — has issued a statement declaring his desire to visit Russia. It is quite probable that Mr. Stassen will be given an opportunity to enter Russia and travel therein, but whether or not he will see the head of the government is not so certain.

The Russians were especially anxious to have Mr. Baruch come to Russia because they were interested in his ideas on the development of atomic energy for peaceful uses. As far back as 1919, Lenin sought Mr. Baruch's advice on industrial development. The request was revived in later years. Mr. Baruch told friends that he could never see eye to eye with the Russians on the basic principles or fundamental approach and nothing ever came of these invitations.

A FEW WEEKS ago, when Mr. Malik inquired of Mr. Baruch why he didn't visit the Soviet Union on his trips abroad in 1948 and 1949, the latter is reported to have replied that he didn't think the Russians wanted him. Mr. Malik countered with the suggestion that he ought to go now. But Mr. Baruch made it clear that there were two reasons why he couldn't do it — first, because he was "persona non grata" with the Washington government here, which Mr. Malik didn't take seriously, and, second, because the President is the only accredited and constitutional agent of the American government and hence the only one who could make policy.

Officials here concur in that point of view and, in fact, have not liked the idea of any personal emissaries visiting Russia who could be regarded as speaking for the government, either directly or indirectly.

One of the chief stumbling blocks, of course, to any negotiations at present is that the United States government doesn't want to enter into any discussions with Moscow separately. The feeling is that Great Britain and France are equally concerned with any over-all settlement in Europe or Asia and that any talks should be initiated with representatives of all the major powers present.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

EVEN IF war in Korea ends this year the draft probably will reach Eisenhower by '52.

But Irving Berlin is very much surprised... When his new show tune, "We Like Ike," was released last week he didn't expect Dewey to say "Me Too."

Some Democrats do not believe Dewey really meant what he said... For the present they are doubting Thomas.

And they find it hard to believe that Mr. Truman said "fine, fine!" when told that Dewey was backing Eisenhower but no one knows whether he meant it's fine that Dewey won't run or fine that Ike might.

But it must be remembered that the President had just left General MacArthur and probably was thinking "I hope I never have to run against that boy!"

By way things look now General MacArthur has a life-term in the Pacific... And it should be a great relief to the party president-raisers.

Chaplain

By HAL BOYLE

Priest Doesn't Shun Danger

WED BOYLE : CHAPLAIN—

W-...

KOREA
WHEN his boys go on patrol, Father Frank quietly picks up his rifle and goes with them.

When they are wounded, he helps carry them out of danger.

And when death reaches out to take them, he gives them the last rites of his church. He has done that for more than 100 men in less than nine weeks and each time it has left him with a more sore heart. For they were no longer strangers to him but close friends.

"I would rather be with them in the foxholes," he said.

I think Father Frank is the best loved chaplain I have ever met. He is a unique chaplain in a unique war. He doesn't want to be thought of as a hero. But he is—by American soldiers who don't want themselves thought of as heroes either, although they are.

His name is Francis Leo Woods and he is a 46-year-old Catholic missionary priest who came to Korea from Ireland 15 years ago. Five years ago American occupation troops rescued him from starving at the hands of Japanese captors. He feels the Americans kept him from an even worse fate by landing here again and rolling back the Communist North Koreans.

"Twice they saved my life—and I wanted to do something in return," he said. He looked up an old friend—Lt. Col. James W. Edwards of 5602 Goodwin St., Dallas, who had been here in 1945. Colonel Edwards said he would like to accept the priest's offer to serve as chaplain with his battalion but explained in embarrassment he couldn't offer him any army rank or pay because Father Frank wasn't an American citizen.

"I WANT NEITHER rank nor pay," Father Frank answered quietly.

Since then the stocky, ruddy-faced priest has become the most popular figure in the Second Infantry Division. And his advice is eagerly sought by his regimental commanders as by the newest recruit.

"I think my lack of rank has been a help in my work," said Father Frank. He sleeps in the battalion commander's tent, eats with the enlisted men. Both officers and men like him for his shy kindness and the comfort he gives in their personal problems as much as for his personal bravery.

Recently the battalion gave him a captured motorcycle for his own use. He was so proud of it that they then presented him with two captured Russian-made trucks for his mission school.

When I met Father Frank the battalion was in a rest area and he sat under a tree with some officers. They were joking about his frontline patrols and the years he spent as a boy in the Irish Republican army before he studied for the priesthood.

"I NOTICE you clean your rifle every day," laughed Lt. James D. Currie of Linesville, Pa., a young platoon leader who had just received a battlefield promotion.

"Ah, yes, I clean it," said Father Frank in his rich brogue, "but I never shot a man in my life—I never had the wish to."

Because he speaks Korean fluently he is the battalion's best interpreter. The officers made Father Frank tell about one night attack by the enemy in force.

"The next morning there were six or seven bodies and one wounded Korean lying by a rice paddy," he recalled. "I called to him in his own tongue to put up his hands. He hesitated and I told him again. Finally enemy soldiers began standing up all over the rice paddy with their hands over their heads."

"Seventy finally stood up. I almost passed away when I saw them all."

I asked Father Frank what he thought of American soldiers and he said:

"I didn't think Americans could take it, but they did. The American soldier can take a beating no other soldier in the world can endure. Yet he is no machine. He is civilized and can think for himself. He may like a bit of luxury but he can endure misery, too."

"And by coming here he saved Christianity in this land."

Sex Education Job Of Parents, Group Says

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18—(AP)—Sex education is the job of parents, says the National Council of Catholic Women.

The organization which is holding its 25th convention here passed a resolution to that effect last night and asserted that such education should be carried out in the home.

The resolution stipulated that sex education "should propose religious motives for the practice of chastity." It declared that such education does more harm than good if it consists merely of "biological information."

Other resolutions approved by the NCCW advocated the use of federal funds to aid parochial schools in providing bus transportation, non-religious textbooks and health services for students.

Ballots Ready Monday For Sick, Disabled

Ballots for sick and disabled Columbiana county electors wishing to vote at the Nov. 7 election will be available beginning Monday, the board of elections announces.

Applications for disabled voters' ballots received prior to Oct. 22 will be rejected, under provisions of Ohio's election laws.

Absentee ballots, 100 of which have been issued, are now available. These ballots are issued to voters who will be outside the county and more than 10 miles distant from their home precinct on election day.

Gabrielson Denies GOP Smear Campaign

CASPER, Wyo., Oct. 18—(AP)—National GOP chairman Guy Gabrielson denies the Republicans are conducting a smear campaign, as alleged by Democratic leaders.

"We don't have to," he said last night at a Republican rally at Casper. "The record of the Democratic party has smeared its members, its fellow travelers and office holders more completely than we could ever do."

Replying to a charge made in Denver last night by vice president Alben W. Barkley that Republicans are creating false issues, Gabrielson called it and similar statements those of a "worried and hysterical" foe.

Gabrielson wound up a seven state western tour last night and headed back to Washington.

IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 18—(AP)—Plans for the expenditure of from $8,000,000 to $9,000,000 for plant improvements in this area have been announced by Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. Talk On Puppets Entertains Nu Phi Mu Sorority Chapter

THE MODEL MEETING OF NU PHI MU chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority was a treat to members and guests alike Tuesday evening when they heard an illustrated talk on Chinese shadow puppets by Mrs. Thomas Crothers.

Miss Pat Kroner was hostess to 15 guests at the rushee party in her home on S. Union ave. Mrs. Crothers, who is an authority on puppets and has aided in speech correction through their use, showed the unique Chinese shadow puppets from Cheng Yu, one of three such shadow puppet sets in the United States. The other groups are in the New York and Chicago museums.

A powerful spotlight when focused on the puppets which are of translucent rice paper, reflects their gorgeous colors on the dark backdrop. The puppets are known to be at least 150 years old and came into Mrs. Crothers' possession from a mutual friend at Northwestern University.

Mrs. Crothers met Chinese students at Northwestern university this summer who actually carried the books from Shanghai university during the war so that they were preserved for use today. Among these students was Madam Confucius, said to be the most learned woman of China. Miss Carmen McNicol introduced the guest speaker.

Plans were discussed for the formal dinner at 6:30 Monday, Nov. 6, in the Metzger hotel when the ritual of the badge will be performed.

Assisting Miss Kroner in entertaining was Miss Gayle Greenisen. A bouquet of pink roses, the sorority flower, added to the attractive buffet table setting.

Postmaster Warns Against Pranks

Postmaster L. D. Beardmore today issued a warning to pranksters to avoid damaging rural mail boxes. He said every year, parents in this district have been forced to pay for the destruction of mail boxes by their children during the Halloween season.

The destruction of a rural mail box is a federal offense and, even though the offender may be a juvenile, the law cannot respect age or sex, he added. Two cases of vandalism already have been reported and are now under investigation by postal inspectors.

DAILY DOZEN By Bob Dixon

• This clearing house is in receipt of another of those coveted literary gems — the unsigned letter, of which there seem to have been many recently. (That's a sentence?)

• This one rates special attention, however, since nothing similar has ever been encountered. It is penned by a Salem woman, who cannot be identified from a field of 33 possibilities. She is, you see, the mother of a Salem High football player.

• Parenthetically, allow us to say that we've been prodded in the past for "more writeups" on linemen, on blockers and for the band and majorettes. In most cases, we hasten to comply. But this request takes the pineapple upsidedown cake.

• Our secret correspondent has decided that "it's about time some recognition is given to the grid mothers," who have too long been neglected. She doesn't ask for a "special night," mind you, but thinks the mothers should have some writeups.

• We are at a loss to know how to go about this properly. Perhaps without carrying the thing too far, we might oblige by composing our football game stories in the future something like this:

• "The Salem High Quakers last night rolled to their 55th consecutive victory over South Zambango by the score of 89-6, with every last mother's son playing a bang-up ball game before 5,467 excited spectators, including 33 self-sacrificing grid mothers.

• "Striking for five touchdowns on long runs was Freddie Zilch, whose mother is president of the Thursday Tatting club. He made her proud of him last night with his sensational performance.

• "Sparking the line play was Tackle Willie Lumpkin, whose slashing defensive work was a thrill to his mater, who was glimpsed in the stands attired in a darling brown taffeta evening gown, and carrying matching accessories, all made of moose hide.

• "Powering through the line for sizeable gains last night was Fullback Montmorency T. Biddikin, Salem's leading ground gainer. When he scored the final TD of the game Montmorency scurried to the sidelines to plant a muddy kiss on the cheek of his well-know mother, Mrs. J. Claptrap Biddikin, scion of the local "400".

• "The grid mothers, accompanied by 5,434 other onlookers, rose to their feet as one in the second quarter as Jacques Throw and Tom Katch collaborated on a spine-tingling touchdown pass for the Quakers. It was voted the "play of the game" by the Boosters Club board of directors and as such entitled Mrs. Throw and Mrs. Katch, the boys' mothers, the weekly award of an orchid each.

• "As the game ended, the entire gathering of grid mothers was hoisted to the shoulders of a bevy of admiring football enthusiasts and carried about the field in the traditional snake dance. It was an awe inspiring sight and a grand tribute to the teams' mothers in recognition of their unique contribution to the formation of our grand team."

• That sort of story might satisfy this strong minority of 33 members. However, it might lead to further complications, which we do not care to encounter. We can't think of anything more difficult to put over at Reilly field than an "Annual Uncles Night."

• No. 13 for free: Seriously, we are sure that every football player's mother takes a deep, quiet pride in her son's accomplishments and needs no "writeups" or stories to commend her. Her only hope is that he will come home on Friday nights without too many bumps and bruises.

Wildcats Seek To Stop Quaker Win Streak

Underrated Struthers May Prove Difficult

"We're a better team than our record indicates," says coach "Howdy" Heldman of Struthers.

"Except for the Youngstown Wilson game, we've made more yards and more first downs than any of our opponents this year," he points out.

Heldman is probably right. His Struthers squad has dropped four games out of five, but at least one of the reverses could have gone the other way.

That would be the Girard game, won by Girard 12-6. During the course of the game Struthers didn't allow Girard inside its 25-yard line. The two Indian touchdowns came on long runs of 67 and 64 yards.

THE WILDCATS have lost to Youngstown South 43-20, to Rayen 8-0 and to Wilson 25-7, in addition to Girard. Their lone win came over Fitch by a 31-7 count.

Heldman says this has been the worst season for injuries in his four years at the Struthers helm. It all started in pre-season practice when he lost his star fullback, big Ray Swansiger, to a deluxe line plunger and passer. The boy sustained a knee injury which has become chronic. The slightest twist causes the knee to swell dangerously. He won't play any more football, ever.

Last week speedy Jim Umble, Struthers end, suffered a broken ankle in the Wilson game. Naturally, he's through for the year.

Bob Bell, who took Swansiger's place at full, hurt his back and missed the Wilson game. He will probably see limited action against Salem Friday night.

Bill Neils, halfback in Struthers' single wing offense, injured his knee during the warmup period before the Rayen game and sat out the following three games. He may be ready this week, Heldman says.

"We've got only one sure starter," he said. "That is Sammy Siskowic, co-captain and center."

ANOTHER BOY who is sure of plenty of action is co-captain Pat Naples, who plays left half. He is plenty fast, specializes in end sweeps and off tackle slants, and handles the Wildcat passing.

Struthers will be gunning to avenge that 21-13 setback suffered last year at Salem's hands, when the Quakers were 24-point underdogs. That night Salem played its finest game of the season.

The Quakers haven't lost a game to Struthers since 1944. Recent scores have been 21-13, 13-13, 40-6, 21-7 and 26-6. During that period, the Wildcats had terrific ball clubs on three occasions, but were played to a standstill by fighting Salem clubs.

Friday's game should be a good one, Heldman feels his team is due to have a really good night and wants it to be against Salem. Although hampered by injuries, the Wildcats will be fired up and ready to go all out this week.

Rudie Schaffer Leaves Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18—(AP)—Rudie Schaffer resigned today as business manager of the Cleveland Indians.

As to why he resigned, Schaffer said:

"My arrangement with Ellis Ryan and the new owners when they purchased the club last fall from Bill Veeck was that I would stay with the Indians on a temporary basis."

"Naturally, the new regime preferred to build its own organization and I stayed on to help them get started during their first year," he added. "They have made a fine start and I can now withdraw from the Cleveland baseball scene."

Ryan, new club president, said Schaffer's resignation had been handled "on pleasant terms" by everyone concerned.

"I have no doubt," he said, "that I will have other pleasant dealings with Schaffer in the future."

Ryan added that the Indians had not yet picked a successor for Schaffer.

Schaffer, who was brought to Cleveland by Veeck in 1946 when Veeck purchased the Indians, said he is considering several offers, both in and out of baseball.

A native of Milwaukee, he has spent the last 15 years in baseball. He was with the Milwaukee Brewers from 1935 until 1946, first as a public accountant, then as president after Veeck sold the club shortly after the war.

Seek Solution To TV Problem

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18—(AP)—Two of baseball's big headaches—distribution of the 1950 World Series television and radio money and possible elimination or alteration of the players bonus rule—may be brought before Commissioner A. B. Chandler Nov. 16.

That the owners of the major league clubs have been invited to a meeting here with Chandler is known. But what they are going to discuss is not.

The problem of how to dole out the $975,000 from sale of the series radio-TV rights has been made particularly thorny by insistence of some players that they are entitled to a whack at some of the money.

Freddy Hutchinson of Detroit and Marty Marion of St. Louis, who represent the players in such matters, have headed the complaint delegation. Whether they are to appear at the Nov. 16 meeting is unknown.

Ordinarily, the broadcast-television bonanza goes into the players' pension fund, to which the ball players and club owners also contribute. The major leaguers get $50 to $100 monthly pensions when they reach 50.

Neither Chandler nor Secretary of Baseball Walter Multry offered any comment on how the money would be handled this year.

The bonus rule, also a highly controversial issue, now provides for farming out of players for only one season if a major league club paid him a $6,000 or more bonus. Either the club keeps him in the majors after that or he is open to the baseball draft.

One of the knottiest problems raised by present bonus player regulations is resentment by some baseball veterans toward the lavish sums given to inexperienced youths.

President Warren Giles of the Cincinnati Reds made a complete turn-about from his former strong support of the bonus rule. He suggested that since the armed forces are drafting many young men, the bonus rule should be cut out for one year, then revised.

The meeting, set for afternoon, will follow the annual draft held that morning.

Officials Association Accepting Members

The Youngstown District Officials Association is accepting applications for associate membership for football officials in Mahoning, Columbiana and Trumbull counties.

Any official from those counties who is interested should apply in writing to Dave M. Williams, secretary, 3015 Hudson Drive, Youngstown, before Oct. 23.

Ray Reasbeck of Salem is the current president of the association.

Sim Earich Assumes Track Presidency

Fred Cope of Salem High school will relinquish the office of president of the Ohio Association of Track Coaches at the ninth annual fall meeting of the group in Columbus.

Sim Earich, Warren official, will take over as OATC president. Ed Barker of Columbus is secretary.

GORDON FREE TO GO

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18—(AP)—If Joe Gordon gets a chance to become a minor league manager, the Cleveland Indians will not stand in his way, says general manager Hank Greenberg. The second baseman, who played in 119 games and had a .238 batting average last season, had hesitated before joining the Indians this year saying he wanted to remain near his Eugene, Ore., home.

Robert Tonneff, tackle from Barberton, O., is the heaviest player on 1950 Notre Dame team, at 235 pounds.

France To Get Military Aid

$6 Billion Program Is Anticipated Here

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—High U.S. officials said today that France is likely to get up to $6,000,000,000 in American military aid during the next three years.

An American plan to allocate up to $2,400,000,000 of existing funds to the French is just "a first installment," these officials said.

Additional billions will be needed if France is to build up an army of at least 20 divisions by the end of 1952. This reportedly is one of the goals set by military planners to help strengthen western Europe against Communism.

President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson have put Congress on notice that rearming the North Atlantic pact countries and other friendly nations is a long-term job.

French finance minister Maurice Pétie was assured yesterday of American plans to give the French $200,000,000 almost immediately so they can start mass production of arms in French factories in line with Atlantic Pact strategy.

Mrs. H. E. Stiffler of Alliance, formerly of Salem, has received the address of her son, Harvey, stationed with the Navy in Yokosuka, Japan. His address is: Harvey Stiffler, RMN2, Staff Communications Navy No. 3923, c/o F. P. O., San Francisco, Calif.

Dairy Food Makes 'Stick-to-the-Ribs' Dishes

COMES fall, comes "stick-to-the-ribs" food. Children are back at school; grown folks are working harder after the summer holidays. And everybody seems to be hungrier.

Here cheese and other dairy foods loom in the picture larger than ever. Dairy foods, cheese, milk, ice cream, eggs, are good sources of protein. You can count on them to fill in for the more expensive protein foods. Dairy foods can provide the basis for hearty meals.

For example, a filling luncheon or supper dish is made with chateau cheese and corn. Serve it with an apple-and-greens salad, a pudding dessert and tall glasses of milk for a satisfying, complete meal.

DEVILED CHEESE AND CORN
 1/2 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
 1 1/2 lb. pkg. chateau cheese, coarsely shredded
 1 egg, slightly beaten
 1/4 t. salt
 1 2/3 cups cooked whole kernel corn, drained
 2 cups diced day-old bread (about 4 slices)
 1 T. butter, melted

Pour evaporated milk in top of double boiler. Add cheese and cook over boiling water just until cheese is melted; stir often. Remove from heat. Slowly add hot mixture to egg, beating constantly. Mix in salt, corn and 1 1/2 cups diced bread.

Turn into six individual scallop shells or ramekins. Combine melted butter with remaining diced bread, sprinkle over mixture in shells. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 F.) until golden brown, about 25 minutes.

Court Holds Red Tag Is Libelous

COLUMBUS, Oct. 18—(UP)—The Ohio Supreme court held today in effect that to call a person a Communist is libelous.

Judges of the high court refused to review a Cleveland case in which Courtney D. Ward sued the author of a statement that he was a Communist and the owners of the printing company whose facilities were used to print the statement.

The Cleveland case will now go back to common pleas court in Cuyahoga county for trial.

In another case the high court denied a rehearing in the case in which six Ohio cities unsuccessfully appealed from an order of the Public Utilities Commission granting the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. an annual rate increase of about $8,000,000.

The supreme court had earlier substantially upheld the PUCC ruling making only one change in reserves of Ohio Bell upon which the base rate for service was determined. The cities involved were Akron, Toledo, Canton, Columbus, Dayton and Cleveland.

Probe Shipments To Communist China

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—A swift inquiry was promised by a Senate subcommittee today to find out what the government has done since the Korean war to halt the flow of strategic materials to Communist China.

Senator O'Connor (D-Md), chairman of the group, said State and Commerce Department officials will be called for questioning tomorrow in a quick follow-up to testimony about delivery of steel plates and other equipment to Red China ports by an American ship.

He said he regards as "represhensible" any shipment of strategic materials to Communist China since the fighting in Korea started last June.

The Commerce subcommittee started out to investigate a charge that the Flying Cloud, a ship of the Isbrandtsen line, had been "blockade running" to Red China from Japan, but O'Connor said his inquiry will not be confined to that.

DRIVER DRAWS FINE

LISBON, Oct. 18—William Alexander of Salem, who was arrested early Sunday after his car damaged a Lisbon porch, entered a plea of guilty Tuesday evening to reckless operation, and was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Kenneth Hiscok.

EXCITEMENT WENT TO HIS HEAD—A crewman aboard a U. S. carrier off Korea was so excited that his steel helmet flew off (seen in mid-air, right) when a Corsair fighter plane roared off the flight deck and crashed into the sea. The pilot, Ensign James Brogan, of Detroit, Mich., was rescued by helicopter and is seen (inset) being transferred to the ship's sick bay for a check-up.

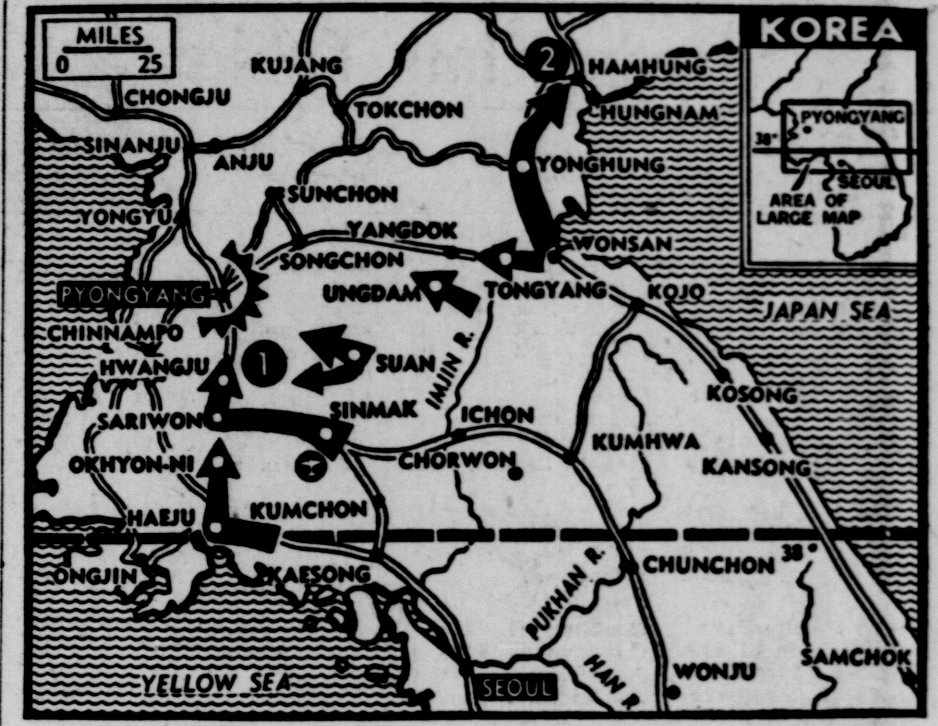

Lions Club Members Plan 3 Programs

The Lions Club, in an unusually busy meeting last night, planned three club programs.

"You Can Change The World," a movie with a Hollywood cast vividly portraying the Christopher movement, was shown with Rev. Fr. William Appell providing the explanatory introduction. Lloyd Scott was program chairman. Although not at the meeting, Aldon Gross, Jr., who recently entered the Navy, was honored in special ceremonies.

The visit of the chest X-ray unit to Salem Oct. 27 will be publicized through a project conducted by the club health and welfare committee. Russell Jennings heads this group, assisted by Charles Edwards, Leonard Spencer and Jack Sarbin.

The Lions accepted the sight-saving seal campaign, with John Kehrer as committee chairman. A Halloween party will be held Nov. 1 at the Valley Golf club. Leo Beall is chairman of the group making arrangements for this affair.

TRAP CLOSING—The U. S. 1st Cavalry Division, by-passing Sariwon, seized Hwangju (1) in the Allied drive on Pyongyang, and today was within 5 miles of the Red capital. Coming from the south, the 27th British brigade captured Sariwon in the Americans' wake. At the northeast end of the great battle are the ROK Capital Division entered Hamhung (2). In the southwest, the U. S. 24th Division swept through Haeju and into Okhyon, driving north toward Sariwon, where a link-up with the 27th British brigade was possible, and farther on, with the U. S. 1st Cavalry Division.

Spy Suspect Pleads Guilty To Conspiracy

NEW YORK, Oct. 18—(AP)—David Greenglass, 28-year-old former army sergeant pleaded guilty today in federal court to a charge of conspiracy in time of war to convey secret government defense information to Russia.

The chunky defendant, who had worked on the atom bomb project at Los Alamos, N. Mex., pleaded to the charge in a firm voice before Federal Judge William Bondy.

Greenglass was originally indicted in New Mexico, and was named in a superseding indictment here last week with four others, including Anatoli A. Yakovlev, former Russian vice-consul in New York.

Because of his plea, it was expected that Greenglass would turn government witness and thereby escape the death penalty.

tanks around the city and were laying down artillery fire from entrenched positions.

Roads leading to the capital were reported clogged with Red infantrymen streaming back to Pyongyang. Generally they had put up only short and half-hearted skirmishes farther south and east against the Allied juggernaut.

The U. S. 24th division, first in Korea, was slicing west to capture Chinnampo, the port of Pyongyang.

It had rolled miles in 24 hours in a desperate bid to pass the First Cavalry and enter Pyongyang first.

phlets and the spreading of lies loud enough and long enough on the theory that, if such course is pursued, people will come to believe them.

"I do not know whether or not the PAC is being guided by the Communists today. Future congressional investigations no doubt will determine that question.

"Such investigations, hearings, trials and public confessions have proved in the past that the PAC was conceived in communism, had communistic midwives assisting at its birth and was carefully nurtured in its formative period by communist teachers."

Mr. Taft quoted a report of the house un-American Activities Committee which said the 1922 convention of Sidney Hillman's Amalgamated Clothing Workers opened with singing of the "Internationale," President Hillman read a congratulatory message from Russia signed by William Z. Foster and the reply was a resolution introduced by Jack Kroll.

"The original PAC," Mr. Taft declared, "had Hillman as chairman and Lee Pressman, who now confesses he was a communist, as general counsel.

"Hillman set up 14 regional offices, with Kroll named to the region covering Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. Another regional director was Jerry O'Connell, who just recently directed the senate filibuster against the anti-communist bill."

Senator Taft said Mr. Hillman, before a house committee in 1944, listed 141 individuals as comprising the governing body of his national Citizens Political Action Committee.

"The house Un-American Activities Committee report of 1944 makes the point," Mr. Taft said, "that 80 percent of these 141 individuals were affiliated with communist fronts and constitute

The PAC, he charged, wants a "labor government."

"By their own estimates," he declared, "they are within five senators and 15 representatives of controlling congress.

"The voters have a right to know the record of the Political Action Committee which is trying to take over the Democratic party and the Congress of the United States.

"If they obtain such a congress, we will have a labor-socialist government of the British principle and very little left of the American principles of liberty."
